

Georgia REALTORS®

The Georgia REALTORS® recognizes the importance that our commercial practitioners play in our association, and the unique perspective that these members bring to the table. In 2016, we explored ways to get commercial members more involved with our committees and leadership in an effort to hear and consider the voice of the commercial sector in all of our decisions.

After examining a variety of ways in which this could be accomplished, we designated two appointments on our Executive Committee specifically for commercial practitioners. We are confident that this first step will lead to more involvement from our commercial members, and bridge the communication gap that too often exists between residential and commercial practitioners.
